Directors of the Retail association were: retiring President Carl C. Duncan (Trend O' Fashion), George Whittlesey (Whittlesey Motors), Abe Robinson (Lawson's Jewelry), Paul Diamond (The Gay Shop), Tim Moore (Moore's Women's Wear) and George Naylor (Torrance Hardware).

President Gots, after taking over the gavel from Carl Duncan, selected First vice-president Trueblood to name a committee to work on the February Dollar Day promotion.

Trueblood selected the following committee: J. H. Page, chairman; Ella Schwartz (Sam Levy Department Store), Oscar Strumwasser (Strum's Department Store). Trueblood will also serve on the committee.

City's previous action of January 24 approving another promotion be set aside until a full investigation has been made.

Councilman Nick Dale also suggested that the proposed new Civil Service ordinance provide that department heads must promote the number one man on the eligibility list, instead of choosing from among the top three.

In case the number one man dies not qualify for any reason whatsoever, the department head must give cause in writing.

100x60 ft sumps containing 20 ft of water in a subdivision built by Home Loan Savings bank. The sump does not have a fence and presents a definite hazard. Blount maintained.

He asked that the Building Department hold up inspections in the tract until the sump has been fenced.

City Manager George Stevens said that officials of the firm have assured him that the fence would go up Wednesday or today.

'Y' Campaign
To Kick Off
With Dinner

The YMCA Annual campaign for operating funds for the current year will be launched with a citizens' and workers' dinner, Wednesday, February 8, 6:30 p.m. at the YWCA.

A campaign organization of four sections consisting of more than 100 persons has been enlisted. The workers will restrict their contacts to selected, carded prospects, campaign officials announced.

General Chairman Sam Levy, in calling attention to increased demands for YMCA service, stated that trained, experienced YMCA leadership is the answer.

He stated further, that the increased population has imposed upon the community an urgency for the type of youth training inherent in the YMCA program.

Special tables will be arranged for each of the four sections. Each section has approved a goal. The goals are as follows:

Industrial $10,000
Professional 3,000
Commercial 3,000
Field 1,000
Speaker for the inaugural dinner will be Charles W. Jacobson, associate general secretary of the metropolitan YMCA of Los Angeles.
Work kits and selected carded prospects will be distributed to the workers. Report lunches will

THE DENTIST SAYS:
ERNEST J. TARR, D.D.S.

MOUTH FEELS DIFFERENT WITH NEW DENTURES

"I recently had a new set of dentures made and my mouth feels so full. What can I do?" asks Mr. L. K. of Torrance.

When dentures are first inserted into a patient's mouth the experience is quite a strange one. He is overcome instantly with a feeling of fullness, and at the same time his salivary glands start working overtime, filling the mouth with a thick, ropy saliva. Both of these sensations pass off after the first few days when one begins to become accustomed to wearing the artificial dentures.

Lips may stick out or bulge at first, but after a few weeks they settle back to a normal position. Also muscles around the mouth will adjust themselves to the dentures and in a short time, when these muscles are under control and able to relax completely, a more normal appearance will present itself.
